Cher Monsieur,

J'ai bien reçu votre lettre du 19 novembre 1979 et vous informe que mon livre, version anglaise, parue aux Editions CHURCHILL LIVINGSTONE d'Edinburgh et intitulé "TENDON SURGERY OF THE HAND" peut être acquis auprès de n'importe quelle librairie qui le commandera aux éditeurs. Je n'en possède pas de volume de réserve ici à Lausanne. En revanche, un libraire lausannois pourrait vous en expédier un exemplaire si vous le désirez. Son prix en librairie est de Fr 60.- environ, mais nous n'avons pas pu obtenir son montant exact.

Veillez agréer, mon cher Confrère, l'expression de mes sentiments les meilleurs.

WILLIAM LITTLER

Dear Dr. Stramen,

Your letter of December 27th, '95 gave me great pleasure; despite the implication of this delayed reply. I decided to draw at least more than one finger for you; but impeded until a few days ago - when, free at last, I finished a long surgical chapter for a "friend's" new edition - I drew not only one, but 4 fingers (actually 2 and 2 halves) and a thumb!

The radial three digits hold, in a "chuck" pinch, an artist's paint brush (from my collection) and illustrate man's instrument of instruments under higher guidance. I wish something better for you - but my 81 years have diminished this linear spirit -.

I hope to see my great friend Claude Verdan's "La main et l'univers" - and to see again "The night before" of some 35 years ago. And my coronary and neurohumoral systems very much appreciate your concern!

Most Cordially,
Dr. Bill Littler
